This is the true life story of Jason Dunphy, a teen who, while living in a small northern Canadian town in the 70's and 80's, developed schizophrenia. These tales are raw and honest. They describe a young person on random hitchhiking adventures through the wide open prairies of Alberta and his wild fantasies of attaining rock stardom. All this with the background noise of the battle of his disease going on in his fragile mind. In the end, we see how Dunphy overcomes his mental illness and finds a life of peace, happiness and health.

Chinese Modern examines crucial episodes in the creation of Chinese modernity during the turbulent twentieth century. Analyzing a rich array of literary, visual, theatrical, and cinematic texts, Xiaobing Tang portrays the cultural transformation of China from the early 1900s through the founding of the People's Republic, the installation of the socialist realist aesthetic, the collapse of the idea of utopia in the aftermath of the Cultural Revolution, and the gradual cannibalization of the socialist past by consumer culture at the century's end. Throughout, he highlights the dynamic tension between everyday life and the heroic ideal. Tang uncovers crucial clues to modern Chinese literary and cultural practices through readings of Wu Jianren's 1906 novel The Sea of Regret and works by canonical writers Lu Xun, Ding Ling, and Ba Jin. For the midcentury, he broadens his investigation by considering theatrical, cinematic, and visual materials in addition to literary texts. His reading of the 1963 play The Young Generation reveals the anxiety and terror underlying the exhilarating new socialist life portrayed on the stage. This play, enormously influential when it first appeared, illustrates the utopian vision of China's lyrical age and its underlying discontents—both of which are critical for understanding late-twentieth-century China. Tang closes with an examination of post-Cultural Revolution nostalgia for the passion of the lyrical age. Throughout Chinese Modern Tang suggests a historical and imaginative affinity between apparently separate literatures and cultures. He thus illuminates not only Chinese modernity but also the condition of modernity as a whole, particularly in light of the postmodern recognition that the market and commodity culture are both angel and devil. This elegantly written volume will be invaluable to students of China, Asian studies, literary criticism, and cultural studies, as well as to readers who study modernity.

Mit Lu Xun begann die moderne chinesische Literatur, und bis heute ist er ihre prägende Leitfigur geblieben. Gleichzeitig ist er ein Intellektueller unserer eigenen Moderne, den Europa seit Jahrzehnten immer wieder neu entdeckt: ein Erzähler und Denker von stupender Aktualität, in dessen Werk Melancholie und Militanz, Ironie und Trauer verschmelzen. Dieser Sammelband bietet eine Auswahl der bedeutendsten Erzählungen aus Lu Xuns Werk. Sie sind der sechsbändigen, 1994 im Unionsverlag erschienen Werkausgabe entnommen, die im deutschen Sprachraum als Referenz gilt.

The "madman" sees "cannibalism" both in his family and the village around him, and he then finds cannibalism in the Confucian classics which had long been credited with a humanistic concern for the mutual obligations of society, and thus for the superiority of Confucian civilization. The story was read as an ironic attack on traditional Chinese culture and a call for a New Culture.

Gogol's biting satirical comedy, first published in 1835, is an outrageous rant against the civil service and the class system of 19th century Russia. It combines realism with the fantastic and the absurd as one man struggles to be noticed by the woman he adores. Gogol's stories are rooted in commonplace events and his characters are common people but Gogol combined that in a weird world of fantasy, broad comedy and lunacy. Copyright © Libri GmbH. In an age of ridiculous ambition and ubiquitous work, Gogol's comic tale is a loser's Hamlet. It burrows into our wildest fantasies and finds wonderful play in the gap between who we are and who we think we are.
