Personal rights are such as can be claimed by a law-suit from a particular person, but not a quocumque possessore. Such are all debts and contracts, the payment or performance of which can be demanded only from one person. If I buy a horse and have him delivered to me, though the former owner sell him to another, I can claim him a quocumque possessore; but if he was not delivered to me I can only pursue the seller. Real rights are of four kinds, property, servitudes, pledges, and exclusive privileges.

1985-1989, das sind die letzten Jahre des Kalten Krieges. Dass es nie zu einer echten militärischen Konfrontation zwischen den West-Alliierten und den Kräften des Warschauer Paktes und damit zu einem Dritten Weltkrieg gekommen ist, ist nicht zuletzt der erfolgreichen Arbeit der militärischen Aufklärung beider Seiten zuzuschreiben. Das Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) spielte eine wichtige Rolle bei der Nachrichtensbearbeitung der NATO-Staaten. Günter K. Weiße beschreibt in seinem neuesten Buch kenntnisreich die militärische Lage Europas in den Jahren von 1985-1989. Aus eigener Erfahrung und unter Rückgriff auf bislang höchst geheime NATO-Dokumente berichtet er über Alltag und Aufgaben der SHAPE Intelligence Division sowie weiterer SHAPE-Gliederungen. Das Werk gibt nicht nur Einblick in die militärischen Übungen von NATO und Warschauer Pakt, Spionageabwehr und strategische Planungen für die Verteidigung Westeuropas, der Leser erfährt auch Näheres über die tägliche Arbeit bei SHAPE und den besonderen Korpsgeist, der die internationale Besetzung aus Soldaten und Zivilpersonen dieser Zeit prägte. Das Buch ist ein Muss für alle zeit- und militärgeschichtlich Interessierten – und für alle ehemaligen und aktiven "SHAPIANS".

This book contributes to the ongoing debate in IR on the role of security communities and formulates a new mechanism-based analytical framework. It argues that the question we need to ask is how security communities work at a time when armed conflicts among states have become significantly less frequent compared to other non-military threats and trans-boundary risks (e.g. terrorism and the adverse effects of climate change). Drawing upon recent advances in practice theory, the book suggests that the emergence and spread of cooperative security practices, ranging from multilateral diplomacy to crisis management, are as important for understanding how security communities work as more traditional confidence-building measures. Using the EU, Spain and Morocco as an in-depth case study, this volume reveals that through the institutionalization of multilateral venues, the EU has provided cooperative frameworks that otherwise would not have been available, and that the de-territorialized notion of security threats has created a new rationale for practical cooperation between Spanish and Moroccan diplomats, armed forces and civilian authorities. Within the broader context, this book provides a mechanism-based framework for studying regional organizations as security community-building institutions, and by utilizing that framework it shows how practice theory can be applied in empirical research to generate novel and thought-provoking results of relevance for the broader field of IR. This book will be of much interest to students of multilateral diplomacy, European Politics, foreign policy, security studies and IR in general.

Corporate boards play a central role in corporate governance and are thus regulated in the corporate law and corporate governance codes of all industrialized countries. Yet while there is a common core of rules on the boards considerable differences remain. These differences depend partly on shareholder structure, partly on historical, political and social developments and especially employee representation on the board. More recently, in particular with the rise of the international corporate governance code movement, there is a clear tendency towards convergence, at least in terms of the formal provisions of the codes. This book analyses the corporate boards, their regulation in law and codes and their actual functioning in ten European countries (Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Poland, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and the United Kingdom). It offers the most up to date practical and analytical information on boards in Europe by leading company law experts. The issues addressed include: board structure, composition and functioning (one tier v. two tier, independent directors, expertise and diversity, separating the chair and the CEO functions, information streams, committees, voting and employee representation); enforcement by liability rules (in particular conflicts of interest), incentive structures (remuneration) and shareholder activism.
